

Both now...

For the Temple

We have no other help, we have no other hope/
Than thee, O Mistress/
Do thou help us, in thee do we trust,
And in thee do we boast;/
For we are thy servants//
Let us not be put to shame.

Troparia/Kontakia

For the Sunday, T. 4

When the women disciples of the Lord learned from the Angel the glad tidings of the Resurrection and cast off the ancestral curse they exultingly told the Apostles
Death is despoiled
Christ our God has risen and is giving the world the great mercy.

For the Temple T. 4

O thou who didst make glad a great sinner with unexpected joy
Didst accept his tearful repentance
And who dost entreat unexpected mercy from thy Son and God Mercifully receive also my tearful sighing and the sorrowful cry of my heart
Still the thoughts, calm thou the disturbance
And fill with quiet joy the heart that cries from the depths Rejoice, O unexpected joy of my soul!

Tone 4: As thou didst share in the ways of the apostles / and didst occupy their throne, / thou didst find thine activity to be a passage to divine vision, /
O divinely inspired one. / Wherefore, ordering the word of truth, /
thou didst suffer for the Faith even to the shedding of thy blood, O hieromartyr Eusebius. / Entreat Christ God, // that our souls be saved.

Glory...

Tone 4: Having lived piously in the rank of hierarch / and traversed the path of martyrdom, / thou didst extinguish the burnt offerings of the idolaters, O holy hierarch Eusebius. /
But as thou hast boldness before Christ God, // entreat Him, that our souls be saved.
